📁 PROJECTS

Employee Management System 🔗

August 2023 – September 2023

The objective of the Employee Management System project is to build an all-inclusive web-based application that enables the seamless management of employee tasks and information within an organization. The project employs the Spring Boot framework for the backend, utilizes MySQL as the database management system, and adopts ReactJS for the front-end user interface. This initiative strives to optimize and automate employee-centric workflows, elevate the precision and security of data, and elevate the overall efficiency of the organization. Through the strategic utilization of Spring Boot, MySQL, and ReactJS, the aim is to engineer a resilient and scalable application tailored to fulfill the organization's precise requirements for proficient employee management.
