Company Project

Hair Salon

Online Booking Appointment Aug-2022 - Jul-2023

- Develop the user interface (UI) components of the hair salon project using React JS. This includes creating interactive and responsive web pages, implementing navigation menus, forms, sidebar and other UI elements.
- Create reusable and modular React components that can be used throughout the hair salon project. This includes designing and implementing components for services, categories, subtypes, appointments, pricing, and any other relevant features.
- Integrate the React components with back-end APIs to retrieve and update data related to the hair salon project. This may involve making HTTP requests using tools like Axios or Fetch, handling responses, and managing API authentication and authorization.
- Implement form validation and handling functionality for various forms used in the hair salon project, such as appointment booking forms, contact forms.

Online Food Delivery App

I have developed an online food delivery app that offers Google authentication for user convenience. The app includes login and signup pages, allowing users to easily access the platform. Users can add their favorite dishes to their cart and place orders with a single click. Additionally, we have integrated a seamless delivery processing system. This app streamlines the process of ordering and receiving food, making it a convenient solution for users
