Title: Ensuring Photo Privacy on Social Media Building Trust Model

- With the development of social media technologies, sharing photos in online social networks has now become a popular way for users to maintain social connections with others.
- When sharing a photo that involves multiple users, the publisher of the photo should take into all related users’ privacy into account.
- The privacy loss to a user depends on how much he trusts the receiver of the photo. And the user’s trust in the publisher is affected by the privacy loss.
- We propose a greedy method for the publisher to tune the threshold, in the purpose of balancing between the privacy preserved by anonymization and the information shared with others.
